

The King III Report refers to the establishment of an ethics office. We are also increasingly confronted with the term “Ethics Officer”. This five day course will provide participants with practical, skills-based knowledge on being good Ethics Officers. Failure to prepare current and future Ethics Officers, as well as ethical employees, for their various roles and responsibilities, decreases the effectiveness of an ethics office, wastes time and resources and increases

WHO?

- Prospective Ethics Officers;
- Current Ethics Officers;
- Current compliance officers interested in expanding their skills;
- Human Resource managers; and
- Risk managers.

You will learn how to:

- Develop, communicate and interpret organisational ethical standards;
- Build and/or sustain an ethical culture;
- Manage ethics and compliance data;
- Support the ethical and compliance obligations of executives and the board of directors;
- Train employees on ethical reasoning; and
- Enhance ethical problem-solving and decision-making skills.

WHAT?

- Identifying the need for the company’s ethics management programme;
- Assessing ethics-related risks and vulnerabilities;
- Developing and implementing ethics management tools, processes and strategies;
- Developing ethics statements, Codes of Ethics and ethics policies;
- Communicating critical ethics data;
- Implementing and managing an ethics infrastructure;
- Developing and conducting ethics training;
- Focusing on specific aspects of ethical leadership;
- Setting up an ethics office; and
- Dealing with ethics-related enquiries.

CONTACT US:

PO Box 2427, Brooklyn Square, 0075, South Africa.
Telephone: +27 (012) 342 2799
Fax: +27 (012) 342 2790
Website: www.ethicsa.org E-mail: mandy@ethicsa.org